St. Louis, Dec. 27.—Christmas was very geverally observed. Business was suspended, and the day was made one of festivity and pleasure. Both churches and theatres were well at. tended.

About half-past six o'clock this evening a party of six or eight drunken roughs attempted to enter Swain's keno room, on Sixth street, between Market and Chestnut, but were refused admittance by Larry O'Brien the doorkeeper. The roughs immediately became abusive and quarrelsome, and Joseph O'Brien, a brother of the doorkeeper, James McCormick, Joe Garvey and Jos. Kelly, who were standing on the sidewalk, took sides with the doorkeeper. A general fight ensued, during which several persons were knocked down and James O'Brien received a dangerous cut in the breast, the knife entering the cavity of the chest. Garvey was stabbed below the shoulder blade and severely cut in the arms. James Kelly got a bad slash across one of his arms. The two former are supposed to be mortally wounded. A man called "Hickey" by his rowdy companions died from the effects of his cuts. The whole affair is said to have occurred in two or three minutes, and all of the assailing party escaped before the police arrived on the grounds. One or two other cutting scrapes occurred during the day, but not of a serious character.

BY E. A. K. HACKETT.

THE British garrison force in Ireland, of all arms, will number 30,000 men by the 1st of January.

It is expected that the president will appoint either Stauly Mathews of | vided, that for the first ten years the Ohio, or Judge Cooley of Michigan, or Judge Cooper of Tennessee to fill the place to be vacated by Judge Swayne.

MRS. UPFOLD, relict of the late George Upfold, D. D., and bishop of the diocese of Indiana, died of the infirmities of advanced age, at her home in Indianapolis on Wednesday morning, the 22d inst., and was buried from the St. Paul's Cathedral church, Indianapolis, on Friday at 10:30 a.m.

THE Indianapolis Journal says that both Grant and Sheridan are said to feel colly, if not bitterly, toward the general of the army for calling the Warren court of inquiry last summer, which had the incidental effect of putting them to justify their action in releiving Warren of his command; from all which it would seem that Warren should have been deprived of the right of review, lest the according it should hurt somebody's feelings, and that somebody's feelings are more to be regarded than some other bod's

Subscriptions are about being opened in Wall street for $15,000,000 in stock and bonds of the Mexican National railway, to connect Laredo, on the Rio Grande, with the City of Mexico. Laredo is not far from the Texan city of San Antonia, to which the Iron Mountain railroad is already built, and is but 500 miles from the Mexican port of Mazatlan, on the Pacific. This link of 500 miles through the cotton and sugar producing district of Mex ico will not long be lacking, and when built, will afford the shortest railroad route from New York and other atlantic cities, to the Pacific. The present project for a road from Laredo to the city of Mexico, has reference no doubt to an ultimate short cut to the Pacific in this direction.

THEN is a man down at Fredericksburg, Va., who has taken out a ptent north of this city, has suddenly befor making it rain whether it wants to or not. His patent is for a balloon small piece of oyster shell. Three or carrying packages of explosives. The balloon is connected by wire with an electric battery, and when at a proper she swallowed a piece of sharp edged height is touched off. Though Espys efforts at rain making did not materialize to ly increasing, and her nerves not being any very great extent, yet it must be borne in mind, that since his day swooned. When she recovered her chickens have come to be hatched by consciousness her friends say that her machinery, and that the difference between kindling a fire on the ground and one kindled away up in the elouds, may be attended with like remarkable results.

MRS. J. ELLEN FOSTER, of Clinton. Iowa, has been retained as counsel and attorney for her defence by Mrs. Brown, now on trial for the murder of herhusband in the criminal court at Indianapolis. This is noteworthy, as | she continues to suffer is terrible to being the first case, we believe, in which a woman has been formally ad- insanity, and is receiving much at mitted to practice as a lawer in any court of the state. The general statute governing admissions to the bar in Indiana, restricts the privilege of admission to men, and if there were no other provision on the out-Tanners Tanner, having lived ubject Mrs. Foster could not have forty-two days without food or water.

THE DAILY SENTINEL is two cents a been admitted in this case. It happens, however, that there is another statutue by which those authorised to practice law in other states, . may, upon motion, be admitted to act in a particular case in any court of this state. It was under this statute that the admission was made in this case, as Mrs. Foster is authorized to practice in the courts of Iowa. If, however, she should be retained in another case in any court of this state she would have to obtain leave of the court to appear as attorney in it. So, as the law now stands, women from other states may be admitted to practice law in our courts, while those from our own state are excluded. It is clear that there is an inequality of privilege in this matter, but there may be doubt as to which side has the benefit of it.

The following is the substance of the educational bill now pending in the United States senate, viz.:

The net proceeds of sales of public ands and of patents are forever set apart for the education of the people. The secretary of the treasury shall yearly apportion to the several states and territories and the District of Columbia, upon the basis of population between the ages of five and twenty years, the said net profits for the previous year, which shall be credited on the books of the treasury sale by Dreier & Bro. as an educational fund, on which 4 per cent. interest per annum is to be paid to the states as above; proapportionment shall be made accordling to the numbers of the populaof ten years upward who can not read and write; and provided, further, that one-third of the income from said fund shall be appropriated to the complete endowment and support of colleges established under the act of 1862, until the amount thus

The streets are crowded with perons carrying parcels. How much happiness it portends for the little ones. May it be unalloyed.

The attendants at the Catholic fair last night report an exciting time. The contest for the wreath to be given to the most popular young lady was won by Miss Keeth of Sheldon. More than 2,000 votes were cast.

I saw the editor of the Chronicle burdened with the weight of their large turkey, and afterwards with a dozen quails or more, wending his way home. This indicates that he is kindly adding to the happiness of others. I hope the latter, if he undertakes to digest the entire supply, your correspondent will receive another attack of sarcastic Chronicle.

The members and friends of the Universal church are preparing a novel entertainment for their children. A cabin house, just such as were seen all around here twenty years ago has been built right over the altar. The clap-board roof, covered with snow, the veritable coon skin drying on the wall, and the chimney, built of clay, makes it a perfect imitation of the frontiersman's house. Down the oldfashioned chimney Santa Claus will descend to-night, and from the cabin door give presents to the company of little ones, who doubtless will go wild with delight.

There will be a Christmas tree at the Baptist church, and friends will be remembered, but no preparations had been made in the way of decorations when your reporter called.

Cresmore and Scott, two variant constables, interviewed Bob and he accompanied them to the fice of Justice Newbart, in whose presence the matter of a prospective heir was settled. Security was given for the payment of $300 in the near future, and Bub walked away leaving the unfortunate Susan to weep over his treacherous infidelity. The case is truly a sad one. Miss Souner is the daughter of higly respected parents, and has herself heretofore possessed an excellent reputation. Bub should have received full forty lashes.

Historical Society. During the past few weeks the Historical Society of Chicago has been placed in possession of a number of relics of great interest. Among these is a present from Mr. James Gouchie, an old Scotch ship builder, but now a resident of a village near Chicago, of the original working plan from which was constructed the first vessel entirely propelled by steam. The ship, named the Royal William, was completed at Quebec in 1831. Two years later she sailed for London, making the trip in twenty five days. Shortly after this the vessel was sold to the Spanish government, and being converted into a man of-war, was the first steam ship ever used in that capacity. The price paid for her was $50,000. In this connection it will not be amiss to recall the fact that in 1819 there sailed from Savannah a full rigged ship called the Savannah, and having an engine and paddle wheels, which were used in fair weather but taken in when the sea was rough. This was the ship which so alarmed the English coast officers. As she neared the Channel clouds of smoke were seen issuing from her, and the coast guards believing the boat to be on fire sent a government cutter to her assistance. The Chicago society is to be congratulated upon its possession of the vessel which subsequently made Europe familiar with the power of steam at sea.—Lafayette Courier.

Is a combination of Hypophosphites originated by me in Canada while under the proces of pulmonary consumption, and which has since been em loyed by the medical profession throughout America and England with unprecedented success. it contains the elements essent:al to the animal organization, or oxidizing agents and tonics.

In combination with the stimulating agent phosphorus, possessing the merit of being slightly alkaline, and is dispensed in the convenient and palatable form of a syrup. Its effects are usually visible within twenty-four hours and are marked by a stimulation of the appetite, the digestion and assimilation, entering directly into the circulation; it tones the nerves and muscles; exerts a healthy action of the secretions; neither disturbes the stomach nor injures the system under prolonged use, and may be discontinued at any time

In a word it possesses the stimulants to arouse the strength, the tonics to retain it, and merit of a high degree.

The mayor had quite an interesting interview with several Christmas revellers who drank the health of their friends a few times too often. Frank Lavanway was the first victim and was a sorry sight to behold; his left eye was tied up in a rag, his right one was dressed in morning of the deepest black and sundry bruises and scratches helped to make his repulsive countenance a fearful sight to behold. The first charge against him was drunk and disorderly preferred by Marshal Diehl, to which Frank pleaded guilty, and his honor gave him a fine and cost of $10 or fifteen days in jail. The next charge was for provoking his wife and call ing her everything but a lady and finally driving her from the house with a sick bake in her arms. Marshal Diehl and Deputy-Marshal Gutermuth were called in and found the house in a sad state of confusion; dishes, chairs, a sewing machine and other articles broken and scattered around on the floor, while Frank was dancing a war dance among the ruins. The mayor thought this diversion was worth $10 cash or fifteen days in jail. On the way to the cooler Frank committed his third offense to the law by resisting Ben, the officer in whose charge he had been placed, and finally spraining the arm of said officer so he is now almost incapable of performing his duties. Again Mr. Zollinger thought $10 or fifteen days in jail would make Mr. Lavanway try and remember that somethings had better be .left undone. His fine amounts to $30, in lieu of which be will be confined in jail for forty-five

Saturday morning John Lytle, a drunk who was disorderly at the Bijou the night before, was fined $10, Mrs. M. Hartnet, 133 East Berry which he paid and went away a wiser if not a happier man.

William Bally, a disorderly character, was fined $12, for which amount he gave bail. William and another young man by the name of Peter Rarus went calling, and the lady did not see fit to open her doors to the boys, so they proceeded to open it themselves, and were taken in. Peter's trial came off at 2 o'clock to day.

HON, JOSEPH E. MCDONALD

Abused Without a Cause.

In our issue of the 18th inst. w published the following upon what was at the time supposed to he reliable information:

"We are informed from Washingon that Hon. Joseph E McDonald is doing everything in his power to prevent the erection of the United States building at this place. Mr. McDonald heretofore has been in favor of this needed improvement to our city, and worked last winter for the passage of the bill. It now seems very strange that he should turn his back upon it and break down what he helped to build up. "With respect, your friend,

"J. E. MCDONALD." It will be seen from the the above that, instead of opposing, Senator Mc donald has been zealously and efficiently advancing the interests of our
